Fulton Freeman New Institute of Foreign Studies President

Fulton Freeman, U. S. Ambassador to Mexico and one of the country's leading career diplomats will be the new president of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies.

This announcement was made jointly by Ambassador Freeman in Mexico City and the Institute in Monterey following a disclosure by President Johnson that he had accepted the ambassador's resignation. Ambassador Freeman will terminate his present duties some time in January, 1969, after 30 years in Foreign Service.

Born in Pasadena, educated at Lingnan University, Pomona College and Princeton University, the 53-year old diplomat entered Foreign Service in March 1939. After serving as vice consul in Mexico in 1939, he was sent to Peiping, China as language officer in 1940. He was interned by the Japanese in December 1941. After his release in 1942, he spent the remaining war years in the consular service in Chungking, China, rising to the rank of consul in 1946, and in 1948 he was made assistant chief of the State Department's Division of Chinese Affairs. Ambassador Freeman served in the American Embassy in Rome, Italy, from 1951 to 1955, and from 1955 to 1957 was director of Politico - Military Affairs, Headquarters Supreme Allied Command Atlantic, in Norfolk, Virginia. He was senior foreign service inspector

Classic Guitar, Symphony Music Features 'Concierto de Carmel'

Major concert artists from throughout the country are gathering in Carmel on Dec. 28 and 29 to present two concerts on behalf of The Hidden Valley Music Seminars.

The Romeros, "The Royal Family of the Spanish guitar," Thomas Paul, bass, Marie Gibson, soprano, and Stanley Plummer, violinist, will arrive between Christmas and New Years to prepare the concerts under the batons of Dr. Michael Zeartott, Atlanta Symphony, and John S. Waddell, Pasadena Symphony Chorale.

Supported by members of the Hidden Valley Concert Chorale and Orchestra, the guest artists will present a varied program of music ranging from Bach and Beethoven to Vivaldi.

Celedonio Romero and sons Celin, Pepe and Angel, will open the conciertos on Dec. 28, and have a chosen Rodrigo's "Concierto da Aranjuez" and "Concierto for Two Guitars" by Vivaldi.

The Romeros came to the United States in 1961, and have played with all the major symphony orchestras in the country, and are recording stars for both Columbia and Mercury.

On Dec. 29, the program will open with "Wachet Auf" by J. S. Bach, and will feature soloists Marie Gibson, soprano, Thomas Paul, bass, and Stanley Plummer, violinist.

Both Miss Gibson and Thomas Paul have appeared in the Carmel Bach Festival.

Fund Raising Committee Report To Carmel Cultural Commission

by Gunnar Norberg

Membership of a fund-raising committee to solicit contributions in the community for improvement of the Sunset Center Theater, was announced at last night's meeting of the Carmel Cultural Commission.

Designated last month to head that committee was Commissioner Ashton Stanley who last night presented the names of his committee.

They are: Edward Neroda, James Pruitt, Leo Tanous, Fred Billet, Dorothy Chapman, and Cole Weston.

Initial effort of the committee is to seek donors who will give at least $50, and to honor each such donor a name plate will be placed on the back of one of the new seats to be installed at Sunset Theater by next fall.

The receipt of funds for the fortieth such seat dedication was announced at last night's meeting — but there will be a total of 714 such new seats — so there will be plenty of opportunity for others to contribute to this effort.

Stage, auditorium, lobby, and dressing room improvements were mentioned as among the purposes for which funds would be used. Specifically mentioned, was an acoustical shell for the stage, which has been intermittently under discussion for some years.

Presented to the commission by City Planning Director John Rilling was a detailed compendium of various factual data about the Sunset Center, along with a series of 11 recommendations for future consideration by the Cultural Commission, the Planning Commission, and the City Council.

Prepared at the direction of Mayor Barney Laiolo, the report and its various recommendations are likely to arouse considerable mixed emotions throughout Carmel.

Basically the report draws a line between portions of the main Sunset structure which face San Carlos street on one side, and those which face Mission street on the other.

Generally those on the San Carlos side are to be used substantially for cultural purposes, but with some admixture of commercial use, such as restaurant and bookstore concessions.

Those facing Mission street would be used for other purposes, such as city administrative offices, with the one-time school cafeteria possibly being used for Council Chamber purposes as well as for public meetings, seminars, and local club functions.

It is recommended, for example, that the kitchen be retained, not only for use in connection with civic gatherings, but also for possible emergency use in the event of disaster.

Conversion of the north playground, even on a temporary basis, into a parking lot, when there is still no compelling pressure for such a lot, is likely to encounter considerable public resistance, and such a proposal has frequently been done in the past.

Putting sod on the field and making it an attractive and useable ground for outdoor games has often been mentioned.

Supervision of organized sports has been offered by the Carmel school recreation department, and it is possible such supervision might be offered again if the City were to ask for it.

In the summer of 1965 such a program for 9-to-12-year-olds was offered, and three-fourths of the children in that program were found to reside within Carmel's city limits.

No action was taken by the Cultural Commission on the Rilling report. Chairman D. Paul Medallie referred it to an ad hoc committee for detailed consideration. The committee is headed by Commissioner James Pruitt, and the members are Commissioners Patricia Faul and Dr. James Gilman.

A proposal for use of the underground facility at the Forest Theatre by the Morgan Stock acting group of Monterey Peninsula College, was approved for a period of six weeks to two months.

Other requests for use of Sunset or Forest Theatre facilities was referred to committee. These included requests by Tom King of Capitola for a restaurant use, and by the Three Rings Book Shop for a possible combination book shop and snack bar at Sunset.

Discussion of possible participation by the Cultural Commission in the coming bi-centennial celebration by means of an original play or pageant, led to a decision to ask the City Council its views in this regard.

Sunset Manager Cole Weston was given authority to plan the presentation of a musical, "My Fair Lady," at the Forest Theatre next summer, in collaboration with the Carmel Schools and Frohman Productions. This would precede the regular free Sunday afternoon programs which have become a tradition, and which will begin in early July.

New Foreign Institute President

from 1957 to 1958, then deputy chief of mission in Brussels, Belgium, 1958-1961. From 1961 to 1964 he was U. S. Ambassador to Colombia. He has been Ambassador to Mexico since 1964.

"I am delighted that at last we are able to make this announcement public," said Mrs. C. Mark Thomas, chairman of the Institute's Board of Trustees. "We consider ourselves fortunate to be able to secure as president of the Institute a man as prominent as the Ambassador. Under his leadership we look forward to the further development and enrichment of the Institute's unique program in foreign studies."

"This is the day we have been waiting for," commented Dr. Samson B. Knoll, chancellor of the Institute since November 1967. "Ambassador Freeman was the unanimous choice of the Board of Trustees as well as the Dean's Council representing the faculty of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies. My office has been a stewardship for the Ambassador, with whom I have been in close touch throughout the past year.

"All of us are looking forward to working with him". Ambassador Freeman will be the second president of the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies, which was founded in 1955 and was accredited to give both the Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees in 1961. The first president was the Institute's Founder, Gaspard Weiss, who was made President Emeritus in September 1967. The Institute is a private liberal arts college devoted to foreign studies. It has become nationally known as a new and significant venture in American higher education. Formal installation ceremonies for the new president will be held at the Institute in February 1969.

Happy New Year

Chamber Honors Presidents At Dinner

The Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce will honor both incoming and outgoing presidents and make an "Outstanding Citizen Award" at its annual dinner Monday evening, Jan. 13 at the Del Monte Hyatt House.

Nick Lombardo is dinner chairman in charge of the arrangements, which will pay homage to the work of Thomas L. Craig for his presidency of the business group during 1968, and will welcome Randall L. Ward, president for the coming year.

Attendance is by reservation only, and no tickets will be sold at the door of the Monterey Grand Ballroom in the hotel.

Suggested dress for the occasion is short or long evening gowns for ladies, dinner jacket or dark suit for the men.

A social hour will start at 6:30 p.m., and dinner will begin at 7:30, with dancing afterwards.

Reservations must be received by the Chamber office in Monterey prior to Jan. 6.

John Steinbeck's Death Mourned On Monterey Peninsula

Many old friends and acquaintances of John Steinbeck are reviewing their memories of the writer who used to come over frequently to Carmel when he lived in Pacific Grove, among them the Frank Lloyds and the Henry Meade Williams.

Thoughts wander to Cannery Row and the beloved characters immortalized in his novels and stories.

Winner of Pulitzer Prize in 1940 for "Grapes of Wrath," he was given the Nobel Peace award in 1962 for his "sympathetic humor and social perception."

Accepting the prize, he said, "The writer is delegated to declare and to celebrate man's proven capacity for greatness of heart and spirit, for gallantry in defeat, for courage, compassion and love."

"I hold that a writer who does not passionately believe in the perfectibility of man has no dedication nor any membership in literature."

His ashes will be buried in Salinas where he was born 66 years ago.

Business Methods Bring Success

Although unable to compete with giant retailers in prices, many small independent stores are becoming successful by creating an image that shopping in their store is almost a form of entertainment.

That's one of the modern retailing trends cited by Bank of America in its latest Small Business Reporter.

Copies of the report, which contains a number of practical and valuable guidelines for the successful operation of a retail store, are available through any Bank of America branch.

In announcing release of the Reporter, August H. Johnson, Manager of the bank's Carmel Branch, said: "The report covers the methods of establishing a store, including financing and choice of location. It also contains a chart showing how cash flows through a retail business and another chart indicating how much a salesperson should sell, based on salary."

Clint Eastwood - Anti-Heroic Cowboy

by Kathy Hall

Clint Eastwood likes Carmel because it's not just an average city. tending Los Angeles City College.

A popular western figure in both television and movies, Clint said in a recent interview that he likes everything about Carmel, especially the annual events it sponsors such as the Bach Festivals.

Eastwood owns a home in Pebble Beach where he lives with his wife, Maggy and his 7-month-old son, Kyle.

It was while he was serving in the Army and stationed at Fort Ord, Clint said, that he decided that this area was where he would one day make his home.

Eastwood, who is well-known for his portrayal of the anti-heroic cowboy in the Italian "dollar films," began his acting career nearly 20 years ago while he was at Clint explained that the Italian director, Sergio Leone sent him a script to read and consider.

Clint liked it and his career in the movies began. From then on he has appeared in a number of the "dollar films" and has also completed American films fashioned after the same type character.

He recently finished a film in England with Richard Burton called "Where Eagles Dare," to be released around Easter. He also completed the movie version of the Broadway musical, "Paint Your Wagon," co-starring Lee Marvin, which will be out in about a year. Clint hopes to do two films a year, which will give him more free time to enjoy the area where he lives.

"That was 15 years ago,"

Eastwood said, "and I didn't work for Universal again until I recently starred in 'Coogan's Bluff.'"

Meanwhile, Clint appeared in small parts on television. He was asked to make a film strip for the television series "Rawhide," and Clint proved to be a winning combination as he worked on the series for eight years.

It was during a lay-over in "Rawhide," that Clint made the first of his "dollar films," "A Fistful of Dollars."

Hammonds-Hall Nuptials at the Mission

The Carmel Mission Basilica by candlelight was the romantic setting for the marriage of Laurie Hammonds of Pebble Beach to Timothy Richard Hall of Carmel Valley on Saturday, Dec. 21.

Laurie, who made her debut last year at the San Francisco Debutante Ball, is the daughter of Mrs. Jesse Coe of Pebble Beach.

She was given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. Coe. The Rev. Juan Oronoz officiated the double ring ceremony.

Laurie chose for her wedding a candlelight gown of English net and Alencon lace. The bodice was fashioned with a cameo neckline and three-quarter length bishop sleeves, appliqued with Alencon lace and tiny seed pearls.

Her beautifully draped skirt fell gracefully from a natural waistline cascading into a chapel sweep. Her exquisite mantilla was delicately appliqued with matching Alencon lace.

The bride's sister, Mary,

Pleasant Carmel Custom Revived

A pleasant Carmel custom was revived Sunday afternoon when Dorothea Anderson of Vizcaino and Flanders Way invited everyone who lives on her block, many of whom she had never met, to a Christmas egg nog party. She took out all her lamps, and instead lighted the room with little Christmas trees which created a Santa Claus atmosphere.

Everyone enjoyed meeting his neighbors. When Carmel was smaller, it used to be the rule to include everyone at a party.

Eastern Star Installs New Officers

Mrs. John Westover of Pacific Grove and Mr. Kenneth Roberts of Carmel as worthy patroness and patron were installed in recent ceremonies of the Carmel chapter of the Order of Eastern Star held at the Cypress Club in Carmel.

Dressed in dark green lace over light green satin, Mrs. Westover carried a nosegay of white mums and yellow rose buds.

Other officers installed were Mrs. Bufileign Zak, associate matron and John Westover, associate patron; Mrs. John Graven, secretary; and Mrs. Orlie Holm, treasurer.

Mrs. Ed Durel will serve as conductress assisted by Mrs. John Cardinalli; Mrs. Antone Trepina, chaplain; Mrs. Ruth Pierson, marshal and Mrs. George Cunningham, organist.

Mrs. Jack Sullivan, Mrs. James Daniels, Mrs. Henri Corbat, Mrs. Milton Parrish, Mrs. Nella Evanovich, Mr. Mrs. Norman Winslow, Paul Tekawa, and William Bjornvold will take part in ceremonies.

Mrs. Craven and Mr. Tekawa, retiring officers were in charge of the ceremony with Mrs. Durel heading the decorations committee.

Visiting officers included Mrs. Chester Dunn of Salinas, Worthy Grand Matron; Mrs. Chick Willoughby and Mrs. Grace Cissna, deputy grand matrons of the 44th and 45th districts.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lynch

Molly Helm and Frank Lynch Married

The nuptial mass for Mary Katherine Helm and Francis Joseph Lynch took place at the Carmel Mission Basilica on Saturday. Father Gerald Wade of San Jose, a personal friend of the bride and groom, performed the one o'clock ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, Walter Max Helm, Molly chose a white silk satin faille gown with high neck and long sleeves, highlighted with Venise lace. There were full length panels in front and back.

Her full-length veil was held by a Dior bow and she carried a round bouquet of white roses, lily of the valley and stephanotis.

Molly's attendants were all her sisters: Miss Marjorie Helm, maid of honor; Mrs. James (Betsy) Hansen, matron of honor; Susan and Teresa, bridesmaids.

They were dressed in garnet velvet gowns with matching Dior bows in their hair and carried nosegays of pink and white roses.

Among the ushers were George Thaler of Carmel, while Charles Patrick Toohey of Santa Clara was his best man. Others were Timothy Fischer of Menlo Park, John Hogan of Los Altos, Jay Lang and Dennis McGinley of Berkeley.

A reception was held at Crespi Hall following the wedding at which the bride's mother, Mrs. Clara Helm, wore a pink silk ensemble.

After a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe, the couple will live in Menlo Park near the University of Santa Clara where the groom is now at school.

Molly, who attended Santa Catalina School, is now a senior at the University of San Francisco in nursing.

Also present at the wedding were Molly's brothers, Walter Jr. and Tony.

Eric Matthew Garrison

Eric Garrison Wins Award

Eric Garrison, Life Scout, Carmel High School football team member and honor student, recently won the God and Country Award in Scouting.

The award is based on over a year and a half service to All Saints' Episcopal Church.

Eric and his brother Brian Bennett took a bicycle trip to Denver last summer during which they stayed at various Episcopal churches along the way at which they led the banjo and guitar Folk Song Mass. The churches provided shelter and jobs to earn their way.

They hope to do the same thing next summer when they head for New Orleans.

Eric is also a herpetologist — that is, he specializes in boa constrictor snakes. He raises mice to feed them.

Eric is the son of Mrs. Richard Bennett of Carmel and Dr. John Garrison of La Mesa, California.

Carmel Women's Democratic Club

Mrs. John Robotti was re-elected president of the Carmel Women's Democratic Club at the last meeting.

She will be assisted by Mrs. Charles Davis of Pebble Beach, first vice president; Mrs. Sherman Smith, second; Mrs. Nell Schaflander, treasurer; Mrs. Jonathan Beene, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Allen Schleicher, recording secretary.

Committee chairmen will include Mrs. Stanley Shloss, of Carmel Valley, membership; Mrs. Richard Rodriguez and Mrs. A. J. Carlson, program, and Mrs. Robert Cox, hospitality.

Mrs. D. L. Moore and Mrs. J. R. Hains will get out the "Sparks" newsletter, and Mrs. Edgar Viall will handle publicity.

Other chairmen will include Mrs. Gordon Hall, telephone, Mrs. Leonard Cohen, Mrs. Dorothy Constance, and Miss Ruth Dodds.

Writing Class Christmas Party

Poetry — or was it verse? — flowed like holiday libations when members of Maxine Shore's Carmel Adult School writing classes gathered for their annual Christmas party at the Hatch Cover last week.

The students congratulated Mrs. El Friede Liese on the publication of her book, "Curious Customs of Carmel," which is just off the press.

Word has just been received from Mrs. William (Janet) Davis, a former member now living in Massachusetts, that her first book, "Cowed by Cows," is being published by Chilton. Mrs. Phoebe Hoffman has received first prize for one of her poems, and Mary Pomeroy has just received a check for one of her articles. Mrs. Raymond Fisher has just sold another article to "Ladies Circle".

The Thursday night Novel class has just finished the first draft of their joint effort, a class novel, "Flames in a Row," which has a Monterey Peninsula setting.

Among those present at the Yuletide festivities were: Messrs. and Mesdames Ted Weller, Harry Graham, George Bratton, Hebbert Liese, William Monlux, Erven Torell, Colonel and Mrs. John Rees, Malcolm Jones, C. B. Ward.

Also present were Mesdames Lucille Llemert, Rollin Wilson, Marjorie Haller, Marjorie Crowner, Phoebe Hoffman, Mrs. Leonore Libby and Hanna Kerr; Messrs. Al Tegtmeier, Mac McCormack, Tony Zufich and the Misses Norma Hall, Betty Garner, and Faith Conklin.

December Babies

There were several merry Christmases celebrated in Carmel this month for the birth of new babies.

Mr. and Mrs. Hung Minh Hoang have a baby girl, Jolene Gonzales, born Dec. 12; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence D. Wilson, a boy Peter Arthur, born Dec. 17; and Mr. and Mrs. Leland R. Lewis a girl Gena Lee born Dec. 18.

In Carmel Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stevens welcomed a boy Colin Costs on Dec. 13.

Christmas in Hawaii

Ruth Pearson and her daughter are spending Christmas in Hawaii. They were to spend several days in Honolulu and the rest of the time on Maui.

From Casablanca

Claudine Foster of Flinders Drive writes from Casablanca on her trip around the world, "I've done so much sight seeing I'm satiated — saturated — I've had it."

After flying to Lisbon she will leave for New York City where she will do a bit of shopping, spend Christmas in Spokane, then home.

DOUBLE CELEBRATION — The 59th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair McClellan, and arrival of their great-granddaughter, Christie Cray, were celebrated last week at the home of their daughter, Mrs. William Arley Smith, seated beside her. Their granddaughter, Mrs. Thomas (Suzi Smith) Cray with her husband came down from San Francisco for the event. The McClellans have lived in Carmel since 1947, coming here from Vancouver. Suzi was a Carmel High School and Stanford graduate.

Here for the Holidays

Valerie Houston, who took a year off from her studies at the University of Utah to work in a Carmel gift shop last year, is here for the holidays.

Also talented as a pianist, Valerie is in her senior year as a ballet major in the only university which has such a major. While she was here she kept up with her dancing in an evening class at the Mary Burr studio at Sunset Center.

At the end of last summer, Valerie and her aunt, Lee Harbick of Game and Gossip, explored Mexico together.

Near Mt. Everest

Dr. Bruce Meyer of Carmel and Ward Allison of Monterey Peninsula Country Club returned recently from a month of climbing and hiking in the Himalayas in Nepal near Tibet. They were in a party of about 15 other hiking enthusiasts.

Acapulco for New Year's

Gerry and Jim Caldwell left Friday for New York where they will spend Christmas with Gerry's mother on Long Island.

Then she and Jim will head for Acapulco for New Year's and be back about Jan. 6.

Gerry has had a challenging year as an editor at the California Test Bureau and publicity chairman of the Monterey County Symphony. Jim has been writing prize-winning stories.

Family Is Home for Xmas

The Rod (Helen) Wilsons returned last week from Maui where they saw Mike Cook on leave with his wife Linda and his new baby Laura.

The Wilson children arrived from Berkeley last Friday. Daughter Sherri is a senior at the University of California. Daughter Micki and husband Mick McMahan are here too. Mick is studying law at Boalt Hall.

Allen Exhibits Scram Photos

One of the Peninsula's most exciting young photographers has been accorded a one-man show of sports car racing pictures at the Salinas Camera Exchange.

Dave Allen of Pacific Grove, a familiar sight at Monterey Peninsula College, Pebble Beach and the SCRAMP races, will hang an exhibition of pictures taken at Laguna Seca over the last two years.

Two of the photographs on exhibit won the SCRAMP photo contest and another was published in Competition Press, a weekly racing newspaper. All were taken by Allen from the wheelchair to which he is confined most of the time.

Allen, who recently turned his darkroom in Pacific Grove into a full time photo business, attended MPC and Fresno State College, where he won the first campus photo contest.

At MPC he was photo and feature editor for El Yanqui and twice editor of "e.g.," campus creative magazine.

The Camera Exchange, located at 929 South Main St. in Salinas, is open Monday through Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and will show Dave Allen's photographs through February.

Students Placed In Jobs By SES

The Student Employment Service Committee has announced the placement of 54 students in the Monterey Peninsula area during the month of November.

Of the 54 students placed, 13 found jobs in Carmel, which was second in Peninsula cities. Monterey was first with 18 placements, Pacific Grove third with 12.

The SES Committee is a group of local citizens who work to provide jobs for youths 16-21 in after-school, weekends and vacation vacancies.

Working with the Monterey office of the State Department of Employment, the committee has set up special programs for potential or actual drop-out students, and for graduating high school students who do not go on to college.

It also acts as a referral agency for the Job Corps, Youth Opportunity Corps and the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

Carmel members of the SES Committee are Malcolm E. Foster, chairman, August H. Johnson and Neil Jensen.

The program operates at no cost, either to the student or employer. Call 373-0143 for further information.

'Christmas' As A Word Armour Topic

Carmel sculptor and wood carver Howell Armour spoke to the Carmel Kiwanis Club last Thursday, using the word "Christmas" as his theme.

Armour pointed out that Christmas is the only English word in use to describe a day or season that has to do with Christianity.

The names of the days of the week and the months we take from Norse, Greek and Roman mythology and rulers, he said, and the name of our greatest Christian holiday, Easter, comes from Eastre, a northern spring goddess.

The Spanish, Italians and Jews have God's Day, but we do not.

But Christmas is completely apropos to Christianity, with its "Christ's Mass" derivation.

Armour closed with the pleas that all men, this year of all years, note that Christmas is Christ's own Mass, and that all should love the Lord and one another.

OFFICIAL ASSURANCE — These Damon Runyon characters come to life in "Guys And Dolls" at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant. From left, Big Jule (Ed Shinbrot), Harry The Horse (Gary Tao), Angle The Ox (Dennis Weaver) and Benny Southstreet (John Soprano) assure Lt. Brannigan (Mike Williams) that they are in Times Square on entirely innocent business, when in fact they are looking for the "oldest established permanent floating crap game in New York." "Guys And Dolls" will play every night between Christmas and New Year's Eve at the Studio and thereafter weekends through January.

'Guys and Dolls' Comes to Studio

For people who like stage plays —

For Peninsula residents who have company and want to treat them to unique entertainment —

... and dinner —

For people who just want to do something a bit different for the holiday week —

The Studio Theatre is thinking of you.

Beginning tonight and running through Dec. 31, the Broadway hit and great motion picture "Guys and Dolls" will run every night at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant.

Dinner starts at 7:30 nightly and the production starts at 8:30 except on Sunday, when everything is one hour earlier.

Adapted from a Damon Runyon short story, "Guys and Dolls" is a musical fable of New York in the 1920s.

Runyon had an ear for the conversations he heard between the characters who inhabited Broadway, and a flair for faithfully recording in his stories the delightful slang of the racketeers, gamblers, hangers-on and chorus girls — such a flair, in fact, that he has become an American legend.

The Studio Theatre's production of "Guys and Dolls" is truly outstanding, and the Pine Cone will review the musical next week.

Reservations are advisable, and may be made by calling 624-1661 or 2321.

Frohman Party in Honor of Players

Sidney Frohman, local film producer and a member of the board of directors of the Monterey Peninsula was host at a party in his Pebble Beach home given in honor of the theater and the Golden Bough Players.

He was assisted by Michael Keller, Circle Theater manager, director and actor.

The party was given to show the appreciation of the board and others for the outstanding efforts of the performing group, which goes under the jaw-breaking title of the Golden Bough Players of the Community Theater of the Monterey Peninsula.

More than 100 people attended, mostly theater personalities and patrons.

Movie Review

Elvira Madigan — A film with a truly lyric spirit. Exquisitely photographed with a quaint air of another time, the story is based on the tragedy of a young man who deserts the army and his family for a tight-rope walker.

2001: A Space Odyssey — Far reaches of space explored in this splendid, highly imaginative science-fiction production. Keir Dullea, Gary Lockwood. Wonderful entertainment.

Doctor Dolittle — Rex Harrison is Hugh Lofting's delightful little doctor who learns to converse with the animals. Amusing comedy, delightful score, all-around great picture.

Paper Lion — Alan Alda plays the part of author George Plimpton, who actually joined the Detroit Lions football team at quarterback in order to get material for this book. Sugar Ray Robinson, Vince Lombardi and Frank Gifford are in the cast.

I Love You, Alice B. Toklas — Peter Sellers makes this funny. He's a stodgy lawyer till he tangles with Leigh Taylor-Young, who plays a groovy flower child. Hilarious results, and a no-answer look at the Establishment and the hippie world.

The Horse in the Gray Flannel Suit — Walt Disney comedy about a splendid gray horse that becomes a contestant in the Washington International Horse Show. Great scenes of this famous equine spectacle.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Welcome to Our Open House"

There are different customs in as many different countries at New Year's, but the celebration is basically the same — open arms and open house with plenty of good things to eat.

We might ask what actually is hospitality? According to the specific Mr. Webster, it's the "act or practice of receiving and entertaining guests or strangers without reward, but with kind and generous liberality."

Limitations of time, money and space have brought many changes in today's ways of party giving. Yet it was the wise bard Shakespeare who said in seven words for yesterday, today and tomorrow: "A woeful hostess brooks not merry guests."

So it isn't how much to serve but rather a careful selection according to ones means and capabilities plus a cheerful atmosphere.

In Germany, the schornsteinfeger (chimney sweep) appears for his gift on New Year's Day, dressed in his tight black outfit and tall silk hat and carrying his broom and ladder. His arrival is said to bring viel gluck (good luck) to the house he serves.

He is given a stein with beer and a "liverwurst loaf" to munch on his rounds. This actually is a loaf of rye or pumpnickel and a goodly amount of liverwurst. We've adapted this idea into a

Cocktail Liverwurst Loaf

One lb. liverwurst; ½ cup red wine; dash of cayenne; 1 t. Worcestershire sauce; 1 t. fresh lemon juice; salt and pepper to taste; 1 t. grated lemon peel; 1 t. grated peeled onion; 4 t. sour cream; round loaf of rye bread.

Whip up the filling together and refrigerate but do not freeze. Two days before the party, hollow out a round loaf of rye bread and let this container become dry. When ready to serve, fill it with seasoned liverwurst according to these directions.

Have butter spreaders available. The bread has been sliced into lengthwise narrow slices and kept damp, covered with wet cloth in refrigerator. Be sure to use a sharp (or grapefruit) knife to hollow out the inside of rye loaf . . . whole . . . then wrap in foil or saran, plus dampened cloth, and refrigerate.

Slice shortly before serving. Additional crackers may also be provided. Each makes his own appetizer to go with the following sparkling

Kuller-Pfirisch

This is made with smallish fresh peaches or nectarines. Prick them, unpeeled, with a silver fork. Place one or the other into a chilled champagne goblet. Pour iced champagne, or sparkling white catawaba grapejuice, over from a "low" height. The pretty fruit will waltz gently in the bubbles.

Could anything be more apropos than a New Year's

Scandinavian Smorgasbord

Open Sandwiches: Use thin slices of pumpnickel, rye, or any dark bread, spread with sweet (unsalted) butter. Vienna twist with poppy seeds, Italian, Basque or French bread are also tops. Cut slices in half for smoked ham or salmon; assorted sliced sausages, boiled beef tongue, roast pork or smoked turkey, duck or goose. Venison is also de luxe.

Greenland shrimp, with the unique flavor and delicacy of their native icy waters, are readily available here. Danish blue cheese is used in a thin large slice on black bread with the usual unsalted butter.

They are all decorated with dill pickles, radish roses and served with horseradish, mustard, fillets of anchovies, capers and lemon wedges, liberally sprinkled with chopped chives, watercress and green onions. Sliced hard cooked eggs tops them all.

Now let's get back to our own land! As a tribute to the LBJs we suggest Mrs. Johnson's specialty:

Lady Bird's "Noches Especiales"

Sixteen tortillas; fat for frying; 1 lb. sharp cheese; jalapenos (not canned peppers). Makes 32 tortilladitas.

Cut tortillas (they come canned), into quarters and fry quickly in deep hot fat until brown and crisp on both sides. Use a swift hand so they won't scorch. Drain on brown paper. Place 1 t. sharp yellow cheese on each quarter and top with a slice of jalapeno pepper. Put in 450 F. oven until cheese melts. Serve at once with

New Year's Wine Nog

One fifth of port or any other dessert wine; pinch each of ground nutmeg, cloves and cinnamon (or to taste); 1 lemon sliced thin; 4 eggs, beaten well. Serves 6. (Make more!)

Heat the wine with the spices and lemon. Pour mixture into eggs slowly. Beat two minutes with rotary beater.

Serve from pre-heated pitcher into mugs. Top with grating of nutmeg. Or serve old-fashioned eggnog with white and dark fruit cakes.

Right here in our own midst, we suggest having a light type of supper spread, California style, for a New Year's gathering.

Boiled Shrimp

Shrimp may be boiled by putting 1 lb. green shrimp into just enough boiling water to cover. Add 1 t. pickling spices to 1 qt. water. Simmer only 8 minutes. Let stand 30 minutes. Drain and chill. Remove shells and clean out the sand veins. Serve cold on picks with cocktail sauce.

French Fried Shrimp

One lb. fresh shrimp; 1 cup sifted flour; 1½ t. baking powder; ¾ t. salt; 1 egg; ½ cup water.

Shell and devein shrimp, leaving tail on. Rinse and pat dry on paper towels. Sift salt. Beat large egg slightly with fork, add dry ingredients, stirring until blended. Add water, a tablespoon at a time.

Stir well until batter is smooth and like a custard sauce. Dip each shrimp in this batter and fry quickly in hot fat until it turns golden brown, about 3-4 minutes. Drain on paper towels. Serve with soy sauce mixed with mustard, currant jelly, lemon juice and sugar to taste. Whip into a smooth sauce.

Broiled Olive-Cheese-Bacon Tidbits

Twelve slices bacon, halved; 24 pimiento-stuffed large olives; 24 (1-inch squares) cheese squares; saltines.

Broil bacon until crisp on both sides; drain. Place over squares of cheese, on sal-tines, top each with an olive. Fasten with toothpicks. Put back under broiler to melt cheese. Serve at once. Makes 24.

Artichokes with Chili-Queso Dip

Twelve prepared artichokes; 4 8-oz. pkgs. cream cheese, softened; 2 cups canned tomatoes; 2 4-oz. cans green chilis, drained and chopped; 2 t. minced onion; Tabasco and salt to taste. Serves 12.

Make a sauce from cream cheese and rest of items listed. Beat together until smooth; chill. Pass the chilled cooked whole artichokes, with "chokes" removed, for everyone to pull a leaf at a time, dipping the fleshy end into the sauce, which is in center of each artichoke.

Spirited Chicken Pate

Three-fourths cup butter; 2 medium onions, finely chopped; 1½ lbs. chicken livers; 1 cup sherry; 6 t. brandy; salt, freshly ground pepper to taste.

Warm butter over low heat; add onion; saute slowly until onions are golden; add livers with sherry and cover; simmer 30 minutes. Cool, stir in brandy, salt and pepper. Blend until smooth. Pack into 4-cup mold (buttered); chill. Serve with crackers or toast rounds.

For ever-so-good-with-wine, spread thin rye party bread with curry-flavored mayonnaise, cover with smoked turkey slices, top with chutney.

Carmel Rancho Center – Result of Foresight and Top Planning Effort

When historians look back on the 20th century America, one of the social factors that will characterize this era is the urbanization of life in the United States.

The personification of the trend toward urban living is the shopping center, the sprawling, low-level mart, with its herring-bone parking lanes, that marked America's flight from the cities.

Shopping centers come in all sizes, and shapes, and display more or less detailed evidences of planning — or lack of planning.

One shopping center that displays evidence of the most meticulous planning is the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center at the mouth of the Carmel Valley.

The 70 acres of the Carmel Rancho, once a dairy farm bordering artichoke fields, is an outstanding and happy example of what results when every detail of a commercial venture is planned with care and foresight.

Beginning with the consideration of the wishes of the citizens of the area, and continuing through the appointment of advisory committees of experts to assist in drawing the plans, and seeking the unqualified approval of planning commissions, conservationists and others interested in preserving the natural beauty of the area, and finally constructing buildings that are both aesthetically pleasing and functional, the Carmel Rancho epitomizes the cooperation of owners, lessors and residents to produce a commercially successful venture with a minimum of friction.

The extreme good taste in which the center has been built makes Carmel Rancho a showplace for all who aspire to build attractive, utility facilities that will attract quality tenants.

With the population trend moving southward, Carmel Rancho is fast becoming the hub of the Monterey Peninsula.

Its easy access for residents of the population centers and great potential for expansion make Carmel Rancho one of the prime shopping center locations in California.

Already the large and commodious stores and the smaller, distinctive shops available have attracted services, businesses, including a bank, restaurant, pharmacy, automatic laundry and dry cleaning, electronic data processing, public accountants, building contractor (in itself, an unusual business for a shopping center), the latest in car washes, doctors — the lists goes on and is virtually all-encompassing.

Negotiations have been completed, and others are under way, for both small and major tenants to lease facilities in Carmel Rancho to better serve the entire Monterey Peninsula and the Carmel Valley area.

Immediately after the first of the year construction will begin on 120 luxury townhouse condominiums at the extreme south end of the shopping complex next to the Carmel River.

The architecture of the townhouses will be in keeping with the flavor of the Carmel and Carmel Valley areas, again evidence of the meticulous planning that has been the hallmark of the developers of the center.

The new condominium will boast several swimming pools and a golf course of a few holes to help owners of the townhouse units to keep their swing grooved.

For the future, Carmel Rancho's horizons stretch into infinity, simply because the developers had the great foresight to assure that the entire operation was properly conceived, well planned and minutely executed.

Truly, the future of the complex will deserve to be called the Hub of the Monterey Peninsula.

New Wores Exhibit at CMA Has Great Artistic and Historic Interest

by Louise Cook

The collection of the works of Theodore Wores (1858 - 1939) now being exhibited at the Carmel Museum of Art is extremely comprehensive.

Although Mr. Wores painted in far-flung areas around the world, San Francisco was his home and many of his paintings are of the city and surrounding territory.

Wores painted on the Monterey Peninsula and was an exhibitor in the old Del Monte Hotel Art Gallery in Monterey.

Wores reveled in every kind of subject: commissioned portraits, shore lines, mountains and trees and flowering orchards. His turn of the century views are charming and portray a period which has disappeared into the past.

Much of Wores' works form a valuable link to the past, making them historically as well as artistically important. He made some striking studies of San Francisco's Chinatown before the 1906 fire destroyed that old section.

Many native peoples were authentically painted by Mr. Wores: American Indians, Hawaiians, Samoans and Mexicans. Some of his most endearing paintings are intimate garden scenes such as "Sherman Rose Garden" and "Monterey Garden."

'Roar of the Greasepaint, The Smell Of The Crowd' New Circle Offering

With a triumphant Broadway run to its credit and recordings of many of its 16 song hits sweeping the country, "The Road of the Greasepaint... The Smell of the Crowd" a musical play by Leslie Bricusse and Anthony Newley, will have its premiere in this area in Carmel's Circle Theatre (the Community Theatre of Monterey Peninsula) on Saturday evening Dec. 28.

The cast of 20 outstanding actors, singers and dancers tell a challenging story of the "haves" versus the "have nots."

The scenes are "somewhere" the time: "sometime."

Circle Theatre Director Zelma (Mrs. Allan) Weinfield has gathered a glittering cast of youthful, highly experienced talent.

Choreographer Dale Lefler is responsible for the dancing and miming.

The role of "Sir" will be played by Milton Hayes who has established his acting versatility in drama as well as comedy on local stages. He is a graduate of the University of California School of Acting.

Rodney Allison, formerly with the Pasadena Playhouse as a singing actor, will appear as "Cocky" champion of the "have-nots."

Leslye Weinfield in the role of "The Kid" has been a student of theatre and has made appearances on local stages since her "pig-tail" days.

Leslye attended Marcia Hovick's Children's Theatre School for six years and Dale Lefler's Showcase School of Theatre Dancing.

"The Girl" will be played by Suzann Newell, a new arrival on Monterey Peninsula who was prominent in theatrical performances during her student days at Hood College, Md.

Dale Diggs in the role of "The Negro" has won critical acclaim as a singer in the local productions, "West Side Story" and "South Pacific."

Timothy Gleason as "The Bully" has a long record of appearances on stages of the San Francisco area. Upon graduating from Junipero High School he attended the University of California, Berkeley and performed in numerous undergraduate theatrical productions.

The six "Urchins" all highly trained singers and dancers who have won popularity on our local stages, include Akemi Ito, trained in classic Japanese ballet and currently studying jazz ballet with Dale Lefler, Miss Ito is also acting as assistant to Mr. Lefler for the production.

Renee Wurmann, ballet soloist who has won laurels with New York Repertory and Brooklyn Civic Opera needs no introduction to audiences of the peninsula.

Barbara Brusell, a new comer to the area has been studying with Dale Lefler for the past year.

Kathy Westmorland has proved her talent in almost every phase of theatre. She appeared in leading roles in Los Angeles little theatre; in Frankfurt, Germany she costarred in musicals and designed sets as well.

Barbara Jamison spent last year in Paris as a student of Russian Ballet under the direction of Mme. Tikanova.

Melissa Hellman has been a member of Dale Lefler Showcase for the past 11 years and is a member of the A Capella Choir.

Bertrand Works MPM January Exhibit

The January exhibit at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art will feature the work of Los Angeles artist Lucile A. Bertrand.

Not only will the show offer a unique variety of work, but the artist herself is unique in that her art career began after age 60.

A life-long artistic "inclination" was first channelled through a series of classes with Paul Coze, European painter-teacher. These uncovered not only a rare talent, but opened a new way of life to the "student."

Cramming 40 years of work into 10, Miss Bertrand studied at the Pasadena Art Museum with Richard Ruben, Fritz Faiss, Frederick Hammersly, and Brenda Davis.

She calls Faiss the catalyst that began the intensive painting-teaching period which has extended to the present.

She has been an exhibiting member of the Los Angeles Art Association since 1963 and has had several one-man shows.

Her work was seen locally at the Jean Kellogg Gallery in Carmel Valley in 1967 and she currently shows in the area at the Mariposa Place Gallery in San Juan Bautista.

She is also a teacher of art for the Gifted Children's Association and teaches both adults and children in private classes.

About her work, Miss Bertrand says... "I am continuously searching for fresh ways to express life in paint — new ways to interpret the stars, the sun, a smile. There are a thousand ways to paint an apple or a cloud — they are never the same, nor are their interpretations. The more one learns, the more one wants to learn. My ex-perimentations will never cease..."

This show will include paintings in all media, plus drawings, collages, and mono-prints, and will be open to the public from Jan. 8 through 28.

A Preview-Reception will be held on Tuesday, January 7th from 6 to 8 and all Association members and guests are invited to come and meet the artist.

The Monterey Peninsula Museum is located on Lincoln Street, between Ocean and 7th, in Carmel and is open from 11-5 Mondays through Fridays and from 2-5 on Saturdays.

Instant Theater Comes To Carmel

The Young Artist's Theatre presents Instant Theatre through Dec. 29 every afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Forest Theatre.

Each afternoon's show will be made up of improvisational theatre, 8mm old-time movies, 16mm experimental movies, surprise acts, slide shows and time for anyone to use the stage for their own legal non-amplified thing.

Tickets will be on sale at the door, but for information and ticket reservations call Dave Allen at 375-8713.

The Forest Theatre is located at Mountain View & Santa Rita in Carmel.

Money raised by Instant Theatre will go to pay for the Young Artist's Theatre's January production of Waiting For Godot by Samuel Becket and a slide show entitled Let Us Begin about the presidential inauguration.

Openings Available For '69 Jamboree

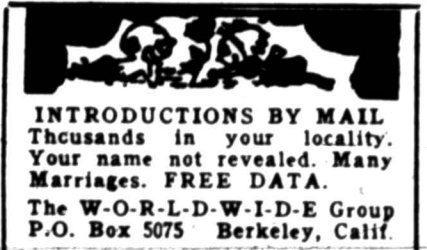

There are seven more spaces available in the 1969 National Jamboree troop, announced Malcolm Gilchrist, chairman of the local Boy Scout Council Jamboree Committee.

The Jamboree troop will be made up of 37 Scouts and Explorers and 3 leaders, and to date 30 reservations have been made.

The local contingent will leave on July 8, 1969, travel to Seattle and take land and sea tours of that area, travel to Vancouver, Grand Coulee, Dam and then the Jamboree. The Jamboree will be held from July 16 to 22 at Farragut State Park, Idaho.

To be eligible, Boy Scouts must be 12 years of age by last September 1, and be Star rank or higher by April 1, 1969. Explorers must have been registered by July 1, 1968, and meet camping and leadership requirements. The total cost for the Monterey Bay Council group is $350 per boy which pays for all fees, food and lodging, travel costs, tentage, cooking equipment and other expenses of the Jamboree. Reservations should be made at the Scout Service Center, 55 San Juan Street, and will be received on a first come — first serve basis.

Jamboree leaders selected to head up the Jamboree troop include Sam Jenkinson from Salinas, Scoutmaster; and assistant Scoutmasters Wes Willoughy from Monterey and Dick Fellows from Golzales.

Bickfords Will Carry on The Oliver Tradition

Mr. and Mrs. E. Curtice Bickford (Curt and Diddie) who recently purchased Oliver's Art Supplies and Frames in Monterey from Mrs. Myron Oliver, widow of the well-known artist whose father started Oliver's in 1896, will carry on the traditions of the former owners.

They will do custom framing as well as carry ready made frames, and they will have a selection of fine prints suitable for framing.

The Bickfords plan to live in Carmel, but at present Mr. Bickford is commuting on weekends to Palo Alto where their son Stephen is a senior at Coubberly High School.

Chris Bickford, their middle son, is living in Carmel and attending Monterey Peninsula College after completing four years in the Navy as a photographer.

Eric, their oldest, a S/Sgt. in the Marines has returned to Vietnam for his second tour of duty.

QUIET RETREAT — Matt Owens, cellist with the Hidden Valley Symphony Orchestra, heads for a quiet spot in the pines near the Robert Louis Stevenson School to study the scores of the music to be played at the Conciertos de Carmel on Sunday, Dec. 28 at Sunset.

Classic Guitarists

Other works on the program include the "Egmont Overture" by Beethoven, with Dr. Michael Zearott conducting the Hidden Valley orchestra; Ravel's "Tzigane" with Stanley Plummer as soloist, and Beethoven's "Choral Fantasy" with all participating.

All the artists coming to Carmel for the Conciertos de Carmel are donating their time and services without charge to the pageant.

Hidden Valley is a non-profit organization which works with outstanding young musicians from throughout the United States.

The students come for ten weeks of intensive summer study of music theory, music history, and such crafts as calligraphy, instrumentation, orchestration, and conducting.

The project has been termed by Dr. James Jarrett, dean of the school of education at the University of California, Berkeley, as "One of the most important and exciting educational ventures in the country."

Reviews for Young Readers

By Allene Fremier

A picture book which is a delight to the younger children is Red Riding, by Jean Merrill.

This is the story of Red Riding Hood, as told by Katy to her younger brother Tony because it is raining.

I read it to the pre-schoolers at story hour and they enjoyed the story, which seemed to them the straight story of Red Riding Hood. But to older children who are very familiar with the original, they will see more of the humor in this version.

For one thing, Tony keeps interrupting his sister with his own ideas. When Katy says that Red Riding has a picnic lunch, Tony adds:

"She brought peanut butter and jelly and seventeen deviled eggs."

When Katy says that Grandmother is sick, Tony decides she must have chicken pox, but Katy says she has measles.

The hunter comes just in time and shoots the wolf. Katy says: "He is still dead on the floor. He can't shake hands with the dog or anything."

Then Red Riding is happy ever after. The rain has stopped, so Katy suggests they pick some flowers and take them to Grandmother. "Is she sick?" "No," Katy said. "But we can pretend she is."

Another picture book which is fun and sparkly is Garrelle and Selemia, by Peter Desbarats.

The two eight-year olds have been friends for so long they know each other's thoughts. They decide to swap houses and each one goes to live at the other one's home. The parents treat each girl as though she were the other one: "you know you never eat cake," or "you don't eat chocolate ice cream."

After a little of this, they return to their own homes, meeting each other on the way. They exchange stories and laugh. It is a charming story, which much of the dialogue done through the drawings.

King Gator, by George Laycock is an exciting story set in the Florida Everglades. Naturalist free-lance writer George Laycock is well qualified to write about animals. Some of his other works are Whitetail, The Story of A White-Tailed Deer, which we recently recently received in the library, Big Nick, The Story of A Remarkable Black Bear, and Never Pet A Porcupine.

In this latest one, King Gator, he tells of a baby alligator who grew to be seven feet in length by the time he was six years old, thus becoming a worthy catch for the many poachers in the area. He finds a home in the Long Swamp Wildlife Refuge and lives and grows safely, becoming a giant as he enters his second decade. Leonard Grimes and his nephew Glenn, set out to capture the great gator. With the cruel capture of the great gator, Glenn's feelings about his uncle change and he has to make a choice regarding his feelings about the swamp and its creatures.

Two new books written and photographed by Ed Radlauer which should be of interest to boys are Slot Car Racing and Karting: Fun On Four Wheels. The text is minimal but informative and the pictures are excellent.

Carmel Rotarians Hear Mulkey

Dean Charles Mulkey, of the technical and vocational department of Monterey Peninsula College, was the principal speaker at last week's noon meeting of the Rotary at the La Playa Hotel.

Dean Mulkey outlined the new directions in high school and college vocational education. He stressed that vocational training must keep pace with the rapidly changing social and economic conditions in this country, and this challenge must be met by the junior colleges, in the main.

Mulkey is one of the area experts in Monterey Bay fishing.

Next Rotary meeting will be held on Jan. 8.

CAMERA CLUB

The Padre Trails Camera Club will hold its first meeting of the 1969 year on Jan. 2 in Brey Hall, Carmel High School at 8 p.m.

The P. S. A. contest for the evening will include both nature and pictorial subjects.

The program will feature a showing of slides from the Salt Lake City camera club. Visitors will be welcome.

Christian Science Bible Lesson

"But the land, whither ye go to possess it, is a land of hills and valleys, and drinketh water of the rain of heaven: A land which the Lord thy God careth for: the eyes of the Lord thy God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year even unto the end of the year." These words from Deuteronomy are part of the Responsive Reading in this week's Bible Lesson-Sermon titled "Christian Science" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes related passages from the denominational textbook, including the following: "The discoverer of Christian Science finds the path less difficult when she counts her footsteps in endeavoring to reach it. When the destination is desirable, expectation speeds our progress." (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

REDUCED $2,000!

NEW PRICE NOW ONLY $47,500 for this home of good value. Hatton Fields location, mellow "old world" atmosphere, hedge-enclosed grounds and roomy interior are some of the "plus" factors. Large enough for a family with children of school age but not too large for a retired couple, this residence comprises three bedrooms (on two levels), two baths, spacious living room, separate dining room, pleasant kitchen, separate garden studio among bearing fruit trees. Draperies and carpeting included in purchase price.

HAPPY COMBINATION . . .

CARMEL POINT LOCATION, UNUSUAL DESIGN, COZY FLOOR PLAN: These features result in an ideal nearly-new home for a retired couple. In immaculate condition and with carpeting, drapes and shutters and kitchen units in good taste, this choice property makes a pleasing first impression that improves with further inspection. Two bedrooms, two baths, inviting living room, separate den-dining room and protected patio. Realistically priced for today's market at $49,500.

SUNSET NOTES

by Dr. James E. Gilman

In keeping with the Christmas spirit there'll be something for everyone this weekend at the Sunset and Forest Theaters, in addition to the regular arts and craft activities going on at the Carmel Cultural Center.

"Ballad of the Harp"

Tomorrow night, Dec. 27 at 8:30 p.m. Sid Frohman will present the world premier of his latest film "The Ballad of the Harp" at the Sunset Theater. Produced and directed by Mr. Frohman, who also produced "First Lady" at Sunset last month, the film should be very worth while.

After the premier there will be a concert by the orchestra that played in the film. The combination of film premier and concert should make for an interesting evening.

Instant Theater

The Young Artists' Theater will present a series of "happenings" at the Forest Theater this Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 2 p.m. The length and substance of each program will vary depending on the mood, wishes and inspiration of both players and audience.

Ronald S. Guillemette, managing director of the Young Artists' Theater, said that the non-rehearsed, improvisational theater is designed to appeal to high school and college students by creating an interest among younger people for theater that is geared to them, using young actors and themes that deal with younger ideas.

In addition to the improvisational theater, 8mm old-time movies, experimental 16mm movies, guest performers drawn from the audience, music, slide shows, and anything else that seems suitable at the moment will be presented.

The only ground rule is that each act conform to legal requirements and be non-amplified.

Tickets will be on sale at the Forest Theater, Mountain View and Santa Rita Streets, Carmel. For further information call Dave Allen at 375-8713.

One of the purposes of the Instant Theater is to raise funds to finance the January production of "Waiting for Godot" which the Young Artists' are rehearsing. This Samuel Beckett play will hopefully be the first of a number of plays to be produced by this newest theater group, including Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell."

In addition to Mr. Guillemette, others associated with the Young Artists' are Dave Allen, John Rousseau, Jeff Jennings, Dean Funk and Bob Chrispin.

All have studied with the Monterey Peninsula College Theater Group under the direction of Morgan Stock.

So if you feel young in spirit, or maybe just a little curious, get up to the Forest Theater this week-end and see what this group of eager and talented youngsters have to offer. It's won't be anything like "Abie's Irish Rose."

Friends of Photography

The Donald S. Ross exhibition of fine photography at the Carmel Photography Center, San Carlos and 9th, will be on exhibit until Jan. 5, 1969. Hours are 1 to 4 p.m. daily except Mondays. Admission is free.

Conciertos en Carmel

The Hidden Valley Music Seminars will present two benefit programs at the Sunset Theater this coming Saturday and Sunday evenings at 8:30 p.m.

Featured on Saturday will be the "Royal Family of the Spanish Guitar" — the Romero Family. Angel Romero and his sons Celedonio, Celin and Pepe will play in recital assisted by the Hidden Valley Concert Orchestra, directed by Dr. Michael Zearott.

The program will include Rodrigo's "Concierto de Aranjuez," and the "Double Guitar Concerto" by Vivaldi.

The Sunday concert will feature Thomas Paul, basso; Marie Gibson, soprano; and Stanley Plummer, violin. They will be assisted by the Hidden Valley Concert Choral and Orchestra conducted by John S. Waddell and Dr. Zearott.

Program highlights will include Bach's "Wachet Auf," Beethoven's "Choral Fantasy," and "Egmont Overture," and Ravel's "Tzigane."

Tickets are available at the Central Box Office, Carmel, phone 624-6739, and at the Seminar office at the Robert Louis Stevenson School, Pebble Beach, phone 624-6737.

Our Men in Service

Fire Control Technician Third Class James B. Randall Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Randall Sr. of Carmel, has returned to Long Beach, Calif., aboard the attack transport USS Okanagan after a seven and a half month deployment in the Western Pacific.

The ship traveled more than 40,000 miles since departing Long Beach last April.

Musicians Needed In Women's Army

Young women musicians who would like the distinction of being members of the only all-women's band in the armed services were invited today to see their local Army recruiter, Sargent Jose Garcia at Room B-4, Post Office, Monterey. He can provide the details concerning enlistment for the 14th Army Band, a unit of the Women's Army Corps.

There are currently requirements for the following instruments: trumpet, French horn, tuba, clarinet, bassoon, saxophone, percussion and piano.

Now stationed at Fort McClellan, Ala., the band travels throughout the nation for concerts and special events such as fairs, festivals, parades and ceremonies, both military and civilian.

Los Padres Fire Season Ends

Forest Supervisor William H. Hansen announced today that all areas of Los Padres National Forest which have been closed to public entry due to high fire danger have now been officially re-opened due to the recent rains. Hansen stated that all other fire prevention precautions are still in effect and that the public should continue to exercise caution in the use of any type of fire. Permits are still required for all types of burning, including campfires, debris, and incinerators.

The 1968 fire season resulted in 79 fires, 69 of which were man-caused — an all time seasonal high. Total acreage burned within the forest was 3,693 acres. All but three fires were suppressed while still small. Assistance by local fire agencies helped in the total suppression effort.

Because of the recent rains, road conditions may be poor in some areas. Local ranger stations should be contacted before entering on forest roads. In addition, the public is reminded that vehicle travel is now limited in most areas of the forest to those roads established and maintained for public travel and use, and to certain designated two-wheeled vehicle routes, as a result of restrictions placed in effect Oct. 1, 1964. Information on the vehicle restriction is available at all forest stations.

Even in Missouri

Mrs. Jan Sylvester, manager of the Carmel Inn, reports that a PINE CONE subscriber in Missouri responded to her classified ad announcing the conversion of the Inn to a private residence for senior citizens. This was one of a number of answers, she stated.
